About the Eagle Pond Authors Series

For the past 20 years, the Eagle Pond Authors' Series has celebrated great writing by some of the nation's outstanding authors. This free series is a tribute to beloved poet and author Donald Hall, who is the heart and soul of this series and instrumental in bringing nationally and internationally revered poets to the PSU campus.

Generous support from the Follett Higher Education Group at the PSU Bookstore helps keep this series free and open to the public. A book signing and reception will follow the reading. Free tickets are available in advance to ensure admission.

FALL TRIOS; FLUTE, VIOLIN, PIANO

SUN | SEP 10 | 1 PM

Elizabeth Blood, piano, Aubrie Dionne, flute, and Mark Latham, violin have come together once again to present a fabulous blend of compositions and composers. The light baroque music of Handel is perfectly balanced with the magical, French romantic music of Gaubert and Ibert. Completing the program is a charming Sarabande and Rigaudon by the contemporary American composer Arthur Foote- famous for being one of the "Boston Six" or otherwise known as the New England Classicists.

SIDORE LECTURE SERIES
ANDREW JACKSON AND PRESIDENTIAL POWER

SUN | SEP 18 | 7 PM

Daniel Feller is professor of history, distinguished professor in the humanities, and editor and director of The Papers of Andrew Jackson at the University of Tennessee. His books include The Public Lands in Jacksonian Politics and The Jacksonian Promise. Feller has appeared on several popular television broadcasts and was the lead scholar on "Andrew Jackson: Good, Evil, and the Presidency" for PBS.

The United States Constitution ordained a system of checks and balances within the federal government, but how they would work in practice remained to be seen. Andrew Jackson's presidency presented the first great test of executive authority, as he stretched his powers in every direction, and came into conflict with the courts, Congress, and even his own cabinet. In the end, Jackson redefined the nature and limits of presidential power for generations to come.

THU | SEP 21 | 7 PM FRI | SEP 22 | 6 PM SAT | SEP 23 | 8 PM
FRI | SEP 29 | 7 PM SAT | SEP 30 | 1 PM & 7 PM

Based on Franz Kafka's classic novel The Trial, which focuses on government intimidation, individual loneliness, despair, paranoia, and bureaucratic corruption. This adaptation takes Kafka's Josef K, transforms him into Joseph Kaye and transports him from early 20th century Europe to early 21st century New York City. In this adaptation by Paul Mroczyk, Kaye finds himself on a year-long journey in a not-too-distant America where freedoms have been greatly diminished and despair has replaced hope. In this production, we're asked to ultimately determine what is reality and what is a play.

LORRAINE CHAPMAN: THE COMPANY WITH PSU DANCE

FRI | SEP 22 | 8 PM

SAT | SEP 23 | 6:30 PM

The Boston Arts Review calls Lorraine Chapman The Company (LCTC) "clever, kitschy, hilarious, and fiercely intelligent". Chapman's choreography embraces and executes musicality with a theatrical approach, and explores the versatility of the speed in which one can express oneself through movement. One of Boston's leading modern dance companies, LCTC has performed throughout New England and the Mid-Atlantic region. Ms. Chapman's work has been commissioned across the US and Canada and Dance Magazine has placed her on the prestigious "25 to Watch" list.

AQUILA THEATRE COMPANY: JANE AUSTEN'S SENSE AND SENSIBILITY

TUE | SEP 26 | 7 PM

Aquila expands the canon of classical works for the stage by adapting Jane Austen's Sense and Sensibility in a bold and exciting new production. Directed by Aquila's artistic director Desiree Sanchez, this production will incorporate her innovative use of space, movement, design, and sound. D.C. Metro said "Sanchez is wildly inventive, and the production choices made were carried out beautifully" and NY Theater Review says "her direction is polished and laser sharp. She gets the maximum amount of potential out of every stage moment, has exceptional attention to detail, and is a demiurge of direction."

A CONVERSATION WITH SACHA PFEIFFER

FRI | OCT 7 | 7 PM

A print and broadcast journalist, Sacha Pfeiffer was a member of the Boston Globe Spotlight Team that won the 2003 Pulitzer Prize for Public Service for its stories on the Catholic Church's cover-up of clergy sex abuse. That reporting is the subject of the 2015 movie "Spotlight," in which Pfeiffer is played by actress Rachel McAdams. In more than a decade at the Globe, Pfeiffer has produced numerous investigative series, has been the host of All Things Considered and Radio Boston at WBUR, Boston's NPR station, where she won a national 2012 Edward R. Murrow Award for broadcast reporting, and a guest host of NPR's On Point and Here & Now. Pfeiffer was a 2004-5 John S. Knight journalism fellow at Stanford University and is a co-author of the book Betrayal: The Crisis in the Catholic Church. She currently writes about wealth, philanthropy and nonprofits for the Globe. Decades before a pioneer of investigative journalism, W.T. Stead, perished on the Titanic, his shocking exposé of child prostitution in London led to the 1885 Criminal Law Amendment Act. How has this legacy of investigation and accountability held up in the 21st century? What challenges does today's investigative journalist face? Drawing on her extensive experiences in the field, the award-winning Boston Globe Spotlight Team reporter Sacha Pfeiffer will address these and other issues related to the role of investigative journalists in our current media landscape.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

THU-SAT | OCT 19-21 | 7 PM

SAT-SUN | OCT 21 & 22 | 1 PM

This classic comedy by William Shakespeare offers audiences hilarious twists and turns generated by rumor, innuendo and wit as its characters blindly find their way to love, bliss, and marriage. Much Ado About Nothing is the story of the witty war that defines the hilarious courtship of Benedick and Beatrice, the passionate misunderstandings, misdirection, and lies that almost destroy the love of Claudio and Hero, and the inept buffoonery of Dogberry and the Watch that ultimately helps to ensure a happy conclusion. This production will entertain on every comic level. Directed by Advice to the Players' Managing Director and PSU alumna Jessie Chapman with scenic design by PSU alumna Marni Blaint and costume design by PSU Teaching Lecturer and alumna Ariel Couture.

ADVOCATING FOR KIDS, 2017

MON | OCT 23 | 7 PM

Dr. Irwin Redlener is Co-Founder of the Children's Health Fund, a philanthropic initiative that he created with singer/song-writer Paul Simon and Karen Redlener to develop health care programs in 25 of the nation's most medically underserved urban and rural communities. He is a nationally recognized expert in child health, health policy, homelessness, and the impact of poverty and the social determinants of health. Dr. Redlener is also founder and director of the National Center for Disaster Preparedness at Columbia University, which focuses on the vulnerability of children during and after large-scale disasters. He is a professor of health policy & management at Columbia's Mailman School of Public Health and in pediatrics at the medical school. He has been an advisor to many administrations, federal and state, on child health, poverty and disaster related policies. His latest book, The Future of Us: What the Dreams of Children Mean for 21st Century America (Columbia University Press) will be released in September 2017.

Dr. Redlener will review the most challenging issues facing children today, including access to health care and availability of a quality education for children living in poverty. He will also address the strategies likely to prove effective in eliminating barriers to essential services and how each of us can make a difference.

Based on the 1934 stage play by the inimitable writing duo of George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, the 1981 Stephen Sondheim and George Furth musical Merrily We Roll Along is still an innovative and intriguing work. The musical starts in the present and proceeds to move back in time as it chronicles the life of wealthy, jaded composer, Franklin Shepard and his two estranged friends. The trio revisits each milestone of their personal and professional lives, as they eventually go back to their beginnings when the three best friends were starting their careers and brimming with promises of brilliant futures. Merrily We Roll Along is directed by PSU professor Beth Daily, choreographed by PSU Director of Dance Amanda Whitworth, and music directed by PSU alumnus Andrew Morrissey.

It's 1962 in Baltimore, Maryland, and quirky, plus-sized, teenage Tracy Turnblad has one dream: to dance on The Corny Collins Show. When she gets put in detention with the African-American students in the school, they teach her some of their dance moves, and her new found groove wins her a spot on Corny's show. Overnight, Tracy transforms from a nobody into a star, and uses her newfound influence to advocate for racial integration on the television show. Tracy faces scrutiny and bullying from the network producer, Velma, and her popular, but vicious, daughter, Amber. With the help of the teenage heartthrob, Link, host Corny Collins and Motormouth Maybelle (the host of 'Negro Day'), Tracy overcomes the odds and succeeds in her mission to integrate The Corny Collins Show. Tony Award-winning Hairspray continues to be one of the most widely produced musicals today, not only because of its wit and charm, but also because of the beautiful message of acceptance and progress that it portrays. The bright, energetic story of Tracy Turnblad teaches us all to look past the color of one's skin and fight for every human being's equal rights.

PSU THEATRE
SWEET CHARITY

THU–SAT | MAR 8–10 | 7 PM

SAT–SUN | MAR 10 & 11 | 1 PM

Created by three of Broadway's most successful artists, composer Cy Coleman, lyricist Dorothy Fields and playwright Neil Simon, Sweet Charity, is the story of a young woman who wants to be loved so badly that she loses touch with who she is and who she can be. Charity sings, dances, laughs and cries her way through romances with the "animal magnetism" type, the "ultra-chic continental" type, and the "impossible-to believe-but-he's-better than nothing" type. Her existence is the all too real and often surreal world of Times Square. This is a bright and sophisticated show that includes classic tunes such as "Big Spender," "If My Friends Could See Me Now," "Too Many Tomorrows," "There's Gotta Be Something Better Than This," "I'm a Brass Band" and "The Rhythm of Life." Directed by PSU Teaching Lecturer and alumnus Fran Page, music direction by PSU Teaching Lecturer Emily Jaworski, and scenic design by guest artist Fereshteh Rostampour, resident scenic and lighting designer, Department of Theatre, Auburn University.

A DREAM PLAY

THU–SAT | APR 12–14 | 7 PM

SAT–SUN | APR 14 & 15 | 1 PM

In 1901, playwright August Strindberg created a purely Expressionistic drama, A Dream Play. In this new type of play, “The characters split, double, multiply, evaporate, condense, dissolve and merge. But one consciousness rules them all: the dreamer’s; for him there are no secrets, no inconsistencies, no scruples and no laws.” A Dream Play changed forever the theatre and art. The primary character in the play is Agnes, the daughter of the Vedic god Indra, who descends to Earth to bear witness to the lives of human beings. During her fascinating journey, she experiences life through about 40 people and realizes that human beings are to be pitied. Finally, she returns to heaven and awakens from her dream-like experience. In A Dream Play, we enter the world of the dreamer where anything and everything can and does happen. Directed by guest artist John R. Briggs with lighting design by guest artist Giorgos Koukoumas of the Cyprus Theatre Organization in Nicosia.
